

Selection/ Suitability/ Trade Test

Internal intake through promotions has been planned. Filling up of vacancies and thereby granting promotion to employees is one of the most important activities, which is undertaken by the department. While filling up of vacancies is most essential in any Safety Organization, granting promotions provide incentive to the employees & thereby increase their efficiency & sense of commitment towards the Organization. To ensure both the above objectives, Selection Calendars have been prepared both for the Safety & Non-Safety Categories and they are closely monitored. All promotional quota vacancies in Safety categories are being filled up strictly as per the Selection calendar on priority basis. The position of Selection, Suitability and Trade tests is given below :-
